TALKING ON THE TARIFF.

Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee in Session.

WHAT THEY WILL PROBABLY DO.

Facts Regarding the Instructions to Minister to Hawaii Willis Gradually Becoming Known—Restoration Conditional on Amnesty—Cleveland and His Visit to New York—Other News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee are today holding a general conference. It is expected the meeting will have the effect of clearing up the uncertainty that has existed for some time with reference to several of the important schedules in the new tariff bill. The members who have been favoring the provision for an income tax feel confident that the result of a series of conferences thus begun will prove that the majority of the committee favors such a plan. The iron ore and coal schedules will be discussed and the question of placing these two articles on the free list probably finally settled in the affirmative. The tobacco, beer and whisky schedules are also expected to be considered, and there appears little doubt that there will be a material increase in the tax on whisky and other distillery outputs. The proposition for an increase of 35 cents a gallon on whisky is now being informally discussed, and some members of the committee even mention an increase as high as 60 cents a gallon. The United States Association of Brewers has filed with the committee a long argument showing why no increase should be made on the present internal revenue tax on beer. Chairman Wilson yesterday had under consideration the question of the revision of the administrative act. Among importers there is much complaint against the classification clauses of this measure, and a committee of New York importers presented views on the subject to Chairman Wilson and the treasury officials. It was suggested among other matters, that the classification question be taken out of the hands of the general appraisers, leaving them to act as appraisers on questions of value only.

STATE SECRETS.

Gradually They Come Out in Relation to Hawaiian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Chief interest in the Hawaiian situation now surrounds the instructions given Minister Willis and the contents of the cipher message received after the arrival of the China. A number of people are now quite familiar with some of their important features. There is no doubt of Minister Willis being instructed to make the restoration of Liliuokalani conditional upon full amnesty being granted to the men who engaged in the revolution and overthrow the queen.

Mr. Willis was instructed to say that the president felt that he ought to protect the provisionals to this extent, because he believed that had it not been for the authority of the United States used by Minister Stevens they would never have been led into the revolution. The instructions, it is thought, requested the minister to first call upon the queen and tell her the president believed a great wrong had been done her, and after insisting upon an amnesty to declare the intention to again place her in control. She was also to be informed that it was the desire of the president that she should placate those who had been instrumental in her overthrow and obtain her forgiveness in authority without the assistance of the United States. From the cipher dispatch it is believed that the state department has been informed that these conditions are satisfactory to the queen and had been accepted by her at the time the China sailed.

To President Dole, it is understood, Minister Willis was to say that the president felt that in protecting the noninterference policy he felt it necessary to decide the matter as if a dispute had been referred to him and restore the queen, and in sustaining her he hoped to have the hearty co-operation of the Dole administration, which he felt was entitled to commendation for what it had done to maintain peace since it had been in existence. After having righted what it considered a wrong done by this government, the United States would acquiesce in the policy of noninterference in affairs of other powers.

It is anticipated that there will be warm debates upon the subject when it comes up before congress, which will bring out all the facts. The information upon which the letter of Secretary Gresham was based will then have been made public, and while it is anticipated that the statements made will be disputed, it is claimed that they will be sustained by such overwhelming evidence that the people who are disposed to look at the matter fairly will be compelled to acknowledge that the administration could do nothing else but restore the queen.

In answer to the assertions made that the president and secretary of state are destroying a republic and setting up a monarchy the statement is made that there never existed a worse despotism than that of the provisional government in Hawaii.

No information can be secured on the subject, but the belief is growing that Minister Willis' instructions did not include the employment of force in restoring the queen.

WENT TO NEW YORK.

Quiet Trip of the President to New York Creates a Newspaper Mystery.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The president spent yesterday in New York. His disappearance was the cause of considerable speculation, especially as everybody about the white house preserved such a mysterious silence upon the subject. It was first thought he had gone to undergo another surgical operation similar to that of last summer, but this is positively and officially denied. Among all the rumors, the most probable story is that there was more or less politics in the visit and the president desired to meet several prominent New York gentlemen. All who have seen the president lately assert that he is in excellent health and there is no necessity for any operation or for consultation with physicians. At the white house in the afternoon there was an intimation that he had private business in New York which required his attention. There seems to be no explanation for the mystery about the movements of the president.

Banking Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—One of the first subjects to engage the attention of congress in regular session will be a new banking and currency system. For many years this matter has been under consideration, and at times has figured quite as prominently in congressional discussions as the free coinage and other phases of the financial question, but not until now, when the monetary necessity of the country has reached such an acute condition, has radical action on this subject become an immediate probability.

Guarding the President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—President Cleveland now has a body guard, a city policeman being assigned to accompany him between Woodley and the city and to keep a close lookout for his safety. It is said he has been on duty since the death of Carter Harrison. No particular necessity is ascribed, but it is to provide against the present apparent wave of crankism.

Political Query of State Interest.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The Washington Post has the following editorial: "The esteemed Indianapolis Journal thinks Hon. Levi P. Morton would make an excellent candidate for governor for the New York Republicans. So he would, but what does the Journal think of the ex-vice-president as a Republican presidential candidate?"

Those Russian Refugees.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Secretary Carlisle had a conference yesterday with Secretary Gresham with regard to the case of the 10 Russian convicts recently landed at San Francisco. A treasury official says it is possible that some of them would be released and others returned to the custody of the Russian government.

Interest in Columbia's Trial Trip.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The official speed trial trip today of the new cruiser Columbia is looked forward to with great interest by the navy department.

ATROCIOUS CRIME.

Young Girl Assaulted and Murdered by a Brute Who Attempted Suicide.

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 16.—Curt Davidson, who cut his throat after the most brutal outrage and murder of Miss Birdie Baugh, may recover, but if he does he will be lynched. Davidson worked on her father's farm and lived at the house. As she was preparing for bed the brute struck her on the head with a piece of iron, carried her 100 yards to a barn and after accomplishing his purpose cut her throat from ear to ear. He was later found a half-mile distant in a straw pile with his own throat cut. He was aged 40 and she 20 and was a strikingly beautiful girl and a general society favorite.

A mob formed last night to lynch Davidson and troops were called for. After a brief conference it was decided to send the murderer to New Lisbon to avert the lynching which seemed inevitable at midnight. The prisoner was removed to the railway station in an ambulance under guard of the county authorities whose services were available. At the depot the mob made a desperate attempt to secure the prisoner, but was repulsed after a brief skirmish.

WARRING KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Fight Between Powderly and Hayes Factions Opened in Earnest.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—A fight was begun in yesterday's session of the Knights of Labor between the Hayes and Powderly factions which is likely to continue with bitterness during the remainder of the session. Members are endeavoring to keep the details from the public, but enough has been learned to complete the story of the day's proceedings. The morning session was consumed in a dispute between the Hayes and Powderly factions.

Late in the afternoon General Treasurer Hayes presented a report of the financial affairs for the year, in which he is said to have flatly accused the general executive board with having misappropriated all or part of the fund set aside for the benefit of the strikers at Homestead and Coeur d'Alene. This report, which was a direct thing at the Powderly faction, became the subject of an acrimonious debate, in which both parties indulged in almost unlimited abuse of one another. A report was also presented by the general executive committee the exact nature of which cannot be learned, but it is understood that counter accusations are made in it against what is known as the Hayes faction. Grand Master Workman Powderly was engaged last night in marshaling his forces from all parts of the country preparatory to a big fight.

And They Call It Mysterious.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—President Cleveland yesterday breakfasted at the Victoria, drove off in a carriage and was absent several hours, made private calls on personal friends, strolled in Central park, dined with Dr. Bryant, returned to the hotel for an hour or two and then went to see "Erminie," seeming to enjoy the performance. He was cheered when he came out, stepped into a carriage, drove to Jersey City and took the train for Washington, at midnight.

INSTRUCTED THE JURY.

Judge Baker's Charge to Federal Grand Jurors.

CITATIONS FROM BANKING LAWS.

Preparation For an Investigation of the Alleged Frauds of Theodore Haughey and Others—Suit Filed to Test the Legislative Apportionment—Another Setback For Roby—Choice State Items.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—Late yesterday afternoon the federal grand jurors for the present session were sworn in and instructed by Judge Baker. No session in years has attracted the interest surrounding the meeting of this one, as it is to investigate the charges against the alleged wreckers of the Indianapolis National bank, Theodore and Schuyler Haughey and the Coffins. Judge Baker in his instructions gave particular attention to the banking laws, and told the jurors that if these were honestly observed they would afford proper protection to depositors.

"Every president, director, cashier, teller, clerk or agent of a banking association," he said, "who embezzles, abstracts or willfully misapplies any moneys, funds or credit of the association; or who, without authority from the directors, issues or puts in circulation any notes of the association; or who, without such authority, issues or puts in circulation any certificate of deposit, draws any order or bill of exchange, makes any acceptance, assigns any note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment or decree, or who makes any false entry in any book, report or statement of the association, with intent, in either case, to injure or defraud the association or any other company, body, politic, or corporate, or any individual person, or to deceive any officer of the association, or any agent appointed to examine the affairs of any such association; and every person who, with like intent, aids or abets any officer, clerk or agent in any violation, is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the state prison."

No bank had a right to loan more than one-tenth of its capital stock to any one corporation or firm, and the aggregate amount loaned to several members of such a corporation cannot exceed the 10 per cent limit, and if done knowingly it is a misappropriation of funds. To receive deposits when insolvent, to falsify reports and statements or to make false entries to deceive officers of the association or agents of the government were also pointed out as criminal offenses.

A drayload of the bank's books and papers were taken to the juryroom, and after disposing of some minor cases the investigation will begin in earnest.

APPORTIONMENT SUIT.

Proceedings Begun to Test the Constitutionality of the Present Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—The Republican state central committee, through A. W. Wishard as plaintiff, has filed in the circuit court of this county a suit to test the last legislative apportionment adopted by the general assembly. It is a document of 47 typewritten pages and attacks the constitutionality of the present law. Lengthy tabulations are given to show that alleged inequalities are caused to exist and that while some counties of small population are given representatives others with greater numbers of residents are combined into joint districts. The plaintiff prays that the court enjoin and restrain county clerks of the state from issuing election notices for the next election of members of the general assembly, and from performing other duties ascribed under the election law. Auditors of counties are also sought to be restrained from performing their usual election duties. The attorneys, who are John B. Elam and A. W. Wishard of Indianapolis and ex-Judge Forbner of New Castle, announce that they will push the suit as rapidly as possible, with a view to reaching a supreme court decision prior to the next general election.

WRECK NEAR VINCENNES.

Brakeman Killed and Seventeen Cars Demolished.

VINCENNES, Nov. 16.—A serious wreck occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern near this city yesterday. As freight train No. 15 was coming down grade a drawbar pulled out, and falling on the track caused 17 cars to leave the track, demolishing them and killing brakeman Charles E. Neff of Washington, Ind. It took 12 hours to clear the track.

Receiver For a Day.

ANDERSON, Nov. 16.—Leonard Wild, who was appointed receiver of the Chicago and Southeastern railroad, took possession of the general offices in this city yesterday and issued his first order. The services of President H. Crawford and his sons and Dr. H. H. Moore were discontinued. The appointment was a genuine surprise to the Crawfords, who succeeded on application to the supreme court in having Wild debarred on a writ of injunction which reached here late last night.

Roby Again Baffled.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—Roby representatives returned yesterday to the statehouse with the athletic club's incorporation papers amended by stipulating a capital stock of $1,200. They were refused on account of the fact that the property of the club is estimated to be worth $75,000 to $100,000, and the state would thereby be deprived of a considerable fee. It is expected that suit will be brought to compel the state secretary to incorporate the association.

ROBBED IN THE ROOKERY.

Railroad Treasurer Assaulted and Relieved of $20,000.

L. I. AND I. OFFICER THE VICTIM.

Followed Into the Office by Two Young Men and There Knocked Down and the Cash Carried Away—Found Groaning on the Floor—Great Excitement and a Bustle Among Policemen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Robbed in the Rookery, one of the largest and best known office buildings in Chicago, situated in the heart of the business district, tells where J. A. Drake, treasurer of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa railroad, was relieved of $20,000 yesterday, an amount he had just put in his satchel with which to pay employees.

The victim was found groaning on his office floor by a passing lettercarrier, and was then in a semi-conscious condition. "I've been robbed by two men," said Mr. Drake, feebly, and the open safe, overturned valise and scattered papers confirmed his statement. Mr. Drake had evidently received rough treatment. Big welts on his head bore evidence of savage blows. He had but little to say, but the sum of $20,000 was mentioned as missing, and it was soon understood that the robbers had made away with that amount. Soon the news of the robbery had spread through the big office building and all kinds of wild tales were circulated.

Only a Slender Claw.

Employees were reticent and gave the affair an air of mystery, and the only possible claw was given by Inspector Shea, who said: "Mr. Drake was followed into the office by two ordinary-looking smooth-faced men and struck down and the money taken. He was struck on each temple, and his head bears the marks of the blows."

The assaulted treasurer was not inclined to say much, and in a few hours was able to walk from the office. There were but few people in the building at the hour of the robbery, and no one can be found who remembers seeing suspicious characters about the place. Business was almost at a standstill in the neighborhood during the day and employees and clerks were equally excited.

Why He Had the Cash.

The office of the company is in charge of Sidney S. Whitehead, general agent for Chicago. F. M. Drake, president of the road, has been out of the city several days and his son, John A. Drake, the treasurer, only arrived here Tuesday. It has been the custom of the treasurer to pay the employees in checks. Had the custom been continued the startling robbery would not have been attempted, in all probability, but within the past week the officials decided to pay in currency. It is thought probable the robbers learned that this month's pay would go out in currency from a circular issued the first of the month announcing that wages would thereafter be paid in cash. These circulars were distributed all along the road among the employees, and one of them could very easily have fallen into the hands of one of the thieves.

Bustle in Police Circles.

The company pays its men twice a month, on the 1st and 15th, and it was to make the last November payment that Treasurer Drake was starting when the robbers attacked him.

The news created a bustle at the Central station the like of which has not been seen since Assassin Prendergast was brought there after shooting Mayor Harrison. The police overhauled many suspects and it is reported that detectives arrested two men at a depot who refused to give an account of themselves. None of the officers admit that an arrest has been made.

SAID HE WAS HELD UP.

But Under Police Pressure He Admitted That He Had Not Been Robbed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—It was learned last evening that R. P. McCormick, president of the McCormick Construction company of St. Louis, was held up by three men on the Chicago and Rock Island and Michigan canal Tuesday evening and a package of money amounting to $8,000 taken from him. He was returning to his headquarters from Lockport Tuesday night and had with him the money, which was to be used in paying off the laborers. As he neared his camp three men sprang on him and he found himself looking into six revolvers. He complied with the request to throw up his hands and the men took his money satchel and ordered him to walk on without looking around. When he did turn the men had disappeared.

The police are incredulous and labor with McCormick until this morning, when they say he has confessed that his story was made up to cover the loss of the money.

Parish was arrested and jailed, where he made an attempt to suicide by butting his head against the iron bars of his cell. Parish, it is stated, held a $10,000 policy on Langdon's life.

GRESHAM is carrying out a deal of personal spite at the expense of the Hawaiians.

In public affairs and great questions democracy has again shown it is unequal to an emergency. In the Hawaiian matter the administration has started out to overthrow a government which represents all the elements in its country which deserve to be consulted in this crisis, and seeks to restore an authority which has no support except from savages which are as incapable of setting up or maintaining a creditable scheme of political rule as is this same democratic party we speak of.

Burglars at Russellville.

We were expecting it. The Putnam burglars have been around the circle. The little city of Russellville was thrown into excitement last evening over the burglary of the Hodgkin & Grimes and J. H. Fordice & Co. stores. They were both broken into and the cash

Nothing of value was taken other than cigars, tobacco and other small articles. The night watchman came very near capturing them, but they escaped, hearing his approach. No clue to the parties.

ANOTHER FACTORY SECURED.

Greencastle to Have a Woodenware Factory in the North End.

While some of our citizens have been asleep others, it seems, have been awake and making hay while the sun was out. Greencastle is to have a woodenware factory, to be situated in the north end. Yesterday I. Vermilion, for the creditors of Birch & Brother, sold the old Birch woolen mill on north Jackson street to Mr. Hermann Hinseching, who secured it for the exceeding low price of $500. The creditors were anxious to sell and the purchasers have a business to place in the mill. A factory now located in St. Louis, the product of which is wooden butter dishes, bowls and other wooden ware, will be moved to this city, together with all its machinery, and located in the mill. Mr. Hinseching has a partner in the concern, which has been in operation in St. Louis for several years. They have decided that Greencastle will be a better place for their interests, and as rapidly as possible will they open up here.

The mill will employ several hands and will live up the north end considerably. It has been the opinion of many that a paying wood-working business could be located in the Birch mill, and it is a matter of local pride that one of our best known young men is in the deal. Mr. Hinseching is a hustler and a careful business man, and his many friends will wish him success.

If that bedstead factory which has been hanging fire for so long will now come to a deal, another local manufacturing plant will be started. With a little organized effort Greencastle could locate several creditable institutions. Boom it.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society met in Locust Street church parlor Wednesday evening. The President, Mrs. Langdon, presiding. The meeting was opened with singing, "Reaches Me," followed with prayer by Mrs. Masten. The audience joined in singing that grand old hymn, From Greenland's icy Mountains, then a special prayer was offered for missionaries in Japan, by Mrs. G. H. Kurtz. The subject for the evening was, Idols and Temples of Japan. This was an interesting lesson and appreciated by all.

The committee prepared an interesting literary program, as follows: Miss Lucy Poucher gave a recitation, My sister and I, we listened to an essay, Woman's debt to Christianity, by Miss Lizzie Mikels. A beautiful hymn was sung, Must Jesus bear the Cross, by the audience. Mrs. Bryan gave an interesting report of the district meeting held in Madison avenue church Indianapolis. A short address was given by the president.

Mrs. Bills favored us with a vocal solo, Christ is All. The meeting was followed by a social, refreshments being served. This was an agreeable surprise to all. Our regular meeting convenes the third Wednesday evening of each month. A cordial invitation is extended to those that are interested in missionary work. LOIE KURTZ, Sec.

Purdue in a Bad Shape.

Lafayette Courier.

The Purdue foot ball eleven left on the Monon milk train at 6 o'clock this morning for Chicago where they will change to the Northwestern road, reaching Madison, Wis., this afternoon. Tomorrow they meet the Wisconsin men on their own ground, and considerable anxiety is felt about the result. Purdue is in a pretty bad shape since the Ann Arbor game, and is in hardly fit condition to play a strong game. She will do her best or die, however. The Wisconsin rush line is made up of veritable giants, greatly Purdue's superior in size. Purdue beat this team last year 34 to 6, but her rush line was stronger then than now. Finney will play as a substitute tomorrow and will not enter the contest unless he has to. Ed. Olin will play left half back, and Downs will be left tackle. Seixas, of Chicago, will act as referee for Purdue.

The young friends of Elsie Allen, to the number of about twenty-five, gave her a surprise party on Tuesday night. The young folks had an elegant time.

James Dalton, Buck Sage, Fred Lucas and James Nelan took the day off and are banging away at the quails. The railroad men are very uneasy about them, fearing that the boys will come to grief by the handling of guns and other dangerous weapons which they took along.

ARE YOU GOING SOUTH THIS WINTER

If so Make Your Arrangements to go by the Big Four Route.

Whether in pursuit of health or pleasure, no portion of the country offers so many and varied attractions at this season as the Sunny South. The orange groves of Florida, replete with the perfume of sweet blossoms, wave their branches in hearty welcome to the tourist from the snow-clad northland and the mellow breezes of the southern sea woo the invalid from the blizzards of the frozen north. There is one line to Florida "The Big Four Route" which on account of its excellent train service perfect connections in union depots and absence of transfers, forms the "tourists' ideal line to Florida." From all points north of the Ohio river the Big Four route, in connection with the through car lines from Cincinnati, will be found to offer the best time, best service and best equipment to all southern points, and if you desire to travel with comfort and ease be sure your tickets read via the Big Four Route.

About Collections.

Every cent of subscription money due is necessary at the end of the week. We do not want to keep book accounts of every cent of money due, but cents per week, and therefore will have our carrier boys make collections every Saturday morning. They are paid for this trouble, and the income they receive will be regulated somewhat in proportion to their success as collectors. You therefore assist them, as well as assure the success of the paper, by paying promptly each week. If the amount is not paid every Saturday, those in arrears will be required to pay in advance for the next week and thereafter. We cannot book these subscription accounts. Many papers require advance payment on dailies the same as weeklies, but all the DAILY BANNER TIMES will ask will be prompt payment each Saturday morning, when the carrier boys ask their dimes. They begin next Saturday. Be ready for them. 9tf

MONTHLY REPORT

Of the Greencastle Public Schools—Attendance Good—Per Cents, Etc.

The reports of teachers show the schools to be in good condition as regards numbers, attendance, etc. There are now enrolled 776, with an enrollment within the month of 768, an average enrollment of 739.9 an average daily attendance of 692.1, or 94.9 per cent; not absent nor tardy, 362, or 48.8 per cent; 79 cases of tardiness, or 5.7 per cent. Our report on tardiness is uniformly the worst feature. We are unable as a people, it would seem, to see the importance of being on time. One city the size of Greencastle reported no more cases of tardiness last year than we do in a month. How that record can be made without undue burden to parents I cannot see. However, fully one-half the cases here are due to carelessness. Parents will do the best thing for their children by insisting that they shall be prompt in attendance.

The increase in enrollment for the month was 25, bringing the number up to within six of what it was at the corresponding date last year. The average number belonging, the average daily attendance and the per cent. not absent nor tardy all have been above last year's record. In some rooms the record has been quite good. Per cent of attendance—Miss Adams, 97.8; Miss Renick, 95.8; Miss Southard, 95.6; Miss Black, 95.5; Miss Miller, 95.4; Miss Jones, 95.2; Miss Hammond, 95. Per cent. not absent nor tardy—High school, 63.2; Miss Hammond, 59.4; Miss Adams, 57.8; Miss Ragan, 54.6; Miss Jones, 51.8; Miss Stone, 50; Miss Black, 49.7. Per cent. of punctuality—Miss Jones, 100; Miss Miller, 100; Miss Hanna, 100; Miss Hammond, 97.8; Miss Ragan, 97.6; Miss Beck, 97.3; high school, 96.9; Miss Black, 96.1.

The work of the schools is moving along pleasantly, teachers and scholars generally united in trying to make the best schools and get the most good out of them. The teachers meet every two weeks from 6:30 to 8 to study De Ganno's Essentials of Method, and good is seen to come from it in that a more intelligent view is obtained of the mental processes the child must pass through for his truest development. Teachers assign lessons better, note the child's mental movements more accurately, see where he needs direction and how to present the truth to make it most effective.

Scholars are more than ever learning that a library is not simply a place where story-books can be obtained, but a place where they may go to find needed information in connection with their daily work and may read books with a definite end in view. The library will be enriched by the addition of our $500 worth of books shortly. As the list is not yet full, any person knowing of good books desirable for the library will confer a favor by giving the list of such to the librarian. R. A. Ogg.

Court Matters.

The Nelson questioning was brought to a close yesterday afternoon. The investigation was held to see what money had been received from Mrs. Nelson by Mr. Nelson, and other questions pertaining to the mortgage which comes up for a test in court next term. Both witnesses gave what evidence was required of them in a clear and concise manner, their attorneys asking but a few questions. The items and points of the testimony were taken down by stenographers for use in the coming litigation. It was the opinion of many who paid close attention, that the evidence would fully enable Mrs. Nelson to sustain her note in court.

A Laundry Hint.

Silk handkerchiefs must be washed in tepid water, using best castile soap. After rubbing in the suds until clean rinse in several waters. Shake, but do not wring, and iron when still damp with a rather cool iron until dry, after which an iron quite warm—not hot—will be used. If the silk is dry makes it stiff and unfit for use.

An Authoritative Denial.

Professor Heilprin, from whom there could hardly be better authority, has denied through the columns of the Boston Journal all foundation for the rumors which have had some circulation that the men of Lieutenant Peary's party objected to Mrs. Peary sharing the expedition.

Those who met Mrs. Peary after her return from Greenland last year and heard her talk of her experiences in the arctic region in the simplest, most modest way, as if to endure the rigors and privations of a polar winter were a trifling matter, gained a pretty clear estimate of her character and endurance.

Said a woman to her during a parlor chat: "But how could you endure the three months of loneliness while your husband was away on his perilous sledge journey and you waiting in that awful desolation for the uncertain end?"

Mrs. Peary looked across at the lieutenant an instant before she answered quietly and with a peculiar expression, as if she had weighed the question before: "It was better than 16 months." Mrs. Peary has the courage of her wifely devotion in a remarkable degree, and it will not be she of the band of intrepid explorers who will falter.

Purdue university is wildly telegraphing over the country the discovery that four of the Michigan team were not students at Ann Arbor, but had matriculated especially to down Purdue. They state that Aldrich is a well-known player named Hayes, of Galena, Ill., and not a student of Ann Arbor. It is also claimed that Villa, the powerful tackle, is a member of the Detroit Athletic Club, and not a student. It has been generally believed here that the above is true, and De Pauw has not been the least gratified over her defeat by the Michigan team.

At Parting.
If thou dost bid thy friend farewell,
But for one night though that farewell may be,
Press thou his palm with thine. How canst thou tell
How far from thee
Fate or caprice may lead his feet
Ere the tomorrow comes? Men have been known
To lightly turn the corner of the street,
And days have grown
To months, and months to lagging years
Before they looked in loving eyes again,
Parting at best is underlain with tears,
With tears and pain.
Therefore, lest sudden death should come between,
Or time or distance, clasp with pressure true
The hand of him that goeth forth unseen.
Fate goeth too!

Yea, find then always time to say
Some earnest word between the idle talk,
Lest with thee, henceforth, night and day,
Regret should walk.

it was met by a new make of moire, also of a brown tone, with chine flowers thrown on a shot ground. The junction was hidden by a band of fur, and the lower part of the bodice was of the moire, which, apparently swathed the figure in soft, easy folds, while the upper part was of velvet, elaborately embroidered in jet and steel, having the semblance of a deep cape, falling over the top of the sleeves. These had one puff of the moire to the elbow and a narrow gauntlet to the wrist. Biased bands edged many of the skirts, and several are cut on the bias as of yore.

Four to four and a half yards is the accepted width of ordinary skirts. They are gored, and by no means full at the waist
—indeed they do not at all err on the side of overfullness or scantiness, the great object being that they should flow gracefully, and in the matter of trimming much is left to the individual taste. For example, a pretty flowered broadened skirt was trimmed about half a yard above the edge with a wide roneau of velvet, knotted at intervals, heading a narrow but full lace flounce. But in order that the velvet should flow out at the feet the lower portion is cut like a flounce, and though not apparently gathered is so gored that it is extra full.
This is the very of the blouse waist, and far from losing its popularity, this pleasing adjunct of feminine apparel bids fair to be more popular than ever. For-do you ever consider the quality of the food you are eating? It may be good. It might be better, purer, fresher and more wholesome.

Is it not worth while to make sure that your Tea, Coffee, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Spices, and innumerable other groceries are of the best quality? There is such a trifling difference in the prices of the best and the worst that it certainly does not pay to buy the worst, even on the false ground of supposed economy.
The best is always the cheapest, because the most satisfactory and durable and the very best of everything in the Grocery Line is kept at

HAT AND SHOE CLOSET.

The Possibilities of Packing Boxes—They May Be Made Ornamental and Useful.
There seems to be no end to the possibilities of packing boxes, and when they can be made ornamental as well as useful suggestions for utilizing them are welcome to most women. The House- hold tells how three boxes can be so placed as to present the appearance of a dressing case built around a window.

DRESSING CASE AROUND A WINDOW.
The center and lower part to be used as a window seat. Here are the directions as originally given in the journal quoted: Procure two boxes the same size, high enough to reach above the window sill and about 18 inches in width, and another long, narrow one to place between them, the two outer boxes to be furnished with two shelves each for holding hats and bonnets, the center box to be divided into compartments for holding boots, shoes and rubbers.
The boxes should be planed until smooth, the cracks filled with putty, and then painted outside and in with enamel paint. Curtains hung from brass rods are placed in front of them, and a cushion with back and sides is made to fit into the window seat, which will be found a most convenient place for putting on and taking off boots and shoes.

Sham Chamois Skin.
Chamois skin is one of many things seldom met with save by proxy. Nearly all of the chamois skin in this market is made of sheepskin or goatskin from England and France. A dealer in these substitutes declares that a single importing house could use in one year all the true chamois skin that Switzerland produces in 10 years. The genuine article fetches nearly three times the price of the substitutes.

Outdoor Coats For Girls.
A pretty coat for girls of 12 years of age is the one made with very broad lapels buttoned back with fancy buttons.
If the coat be made of hunter's green cloth, the vest may be of chamois cloth braided with broad straps of green, or if the garment be gotten up in scarlet cloth

JAUNTY COAT FOR A YOUNG GIRL.
The vest will be of corded silk in black, with a braiding of gold soutache. Another pretty coat for little girls still younger is made up in the new rough and fleecy cloths with a wattleau plait in the front and at the back and three broad ruffles arranged like a cape over the shoulders.

Women Barbers.
Chicago has 20 female barbers who earn from $12 to $18 a week. One of these keeps a barber shop herself and employs six women as assistants. In regard to her choice of an occupation one of these female barbers says: "I have to work for a living, and there is nothing else that I know of which will make me as good wages. I can earn as much as a man. I wouldn't care to do the work of a man for less wages than a man gets for the same work, because if I did I would his proper place a man who would probably take care of a good woman. But since I can command as good wages as he gets I think this is the best thing for me to do."

Household Items.
A pretty arrangement of flowers for finger bowl decoration may be affected by placing small bowls beside of larger ones and filling the intervening space with flowers.
Effective rugs can be made by cutting calico or flannel into narrow strips and drawing these through coarse canvas or coffee sacks. Tie these on the right side and leave ends to every knot one-half inch long.
Days and hours arranged for certain household duties and kept strictly to will simplify housekeeping and insure the respect of servants, however ignorant or stupid they may seem.
Sweeping is much easier than mopping or scrubbing. It is therefore not an economical use of one's strength to leave the crumbs on the floor to be trodden upon while clearing the table.
Cushions covered with cotton goods, gay plaid gingham or other washable materials are useful on the lounge of a sitting room and add a bit of color, which is always pleasing.

ABOUT AQUARIUMS.

ROUND FORMS ARE CHEAPEST, BUT THE OBLONG ARE BEST.

The Aquarium Is Useful, as Well as Ornamental—Best Plants For Aerating the Water—Removing Sediment by Means of a Siphon.

There is no prettier ornament for the sitting room or parlor than a well kept aquarium. The bright hues of the gold fish as they dart through the crystal water, the soft feathery green of the floating water moss give a touch of picturesqueness to the most commonplace room. But beauty is not the aquarium's only merit. By the moisture constantly evaporated from its surface the stuffy dry air of the sitting room is so much ameliorated that pianos keep in better tune, window plants grow thrifter and the air is made easier for human lungs to breathe. When we remember that gold fish are the easiest cared for of any household pet, it seems strange that we do not more often see them, but probably the cost of the aquarium itself is the true explanation.

The most useful form of aquariums are the glass globes that cost from $2 to $5 each. This shape is, however, easily broken. Vick, in his Illustrated Monthly, advises instead an octagonal or oblong tank, and tells how an ingenious person can make one at home when it is not practicable to buy this kind, which costs from $5 to $25. The sides of course should be of glass set in a wooden or tin framework, and the bottom should be lined with zinc or tin. The tin should be painted to prevent rust, and every crack needs to be puttied to prevent the water from leaking through. If only one or two fish are kept, a large candy jar is a convenient thing to keep them in. It is best to allow at least half a gallon of water to each fish if one would avoid having to change the water each day.

Though taking it in small quantities, fish require oxygen the same as ourselves. Where several fish are confined in one aquarium the supply of oxygen in the water is soon exhausted unless the supply is kept up or renewed in some way. This is usually accomplished by growing water plants in the same aquarium with the fish.

The most useful plants are probably the water milfoils, of which the well known water moss is one species and the much advertised water parrot another. A 2 inch pot will hold soil enough for a tank full of these plants.

The green slime that is apt to collect on the sides of the glass is due to minute water weeds. It affords food to the fish and helps to supply oxygen to the water, but presents so unsightly an appearance that it should never be allowed to remain where it is at all noticeable. Where there is a proper balance between fish and plant life the water will not need changing for a long time, but the sediment and particles of dirt will need to be taken out twice a week by the use of the siphon or the water will become clouded and dirty looking.

It is a simple matter to remove this sediment. One only needs three or four feet of rubber half inch tubing, costing 4 or 5 cents a foot. Drop one end of the siphon or tubing in the aquarium and allow the other end to reach to a bucket standing somewhat lower than the aquarium; exhaust the air in the tube by applying the lips to the lower end of the siphon. The water will follow with a rush, and as long as that end is kept the lowest the water will flow uninterruptedly from the tank above. The end of the tubing in the aquarium can be guided directly over the spot where the fish is collected together, when the suction will cause every speck and particle to be the other end. It will take but a moment to do this, and the water will be left limpid and pure.

Polishes For Linen.

The following are good polishes for linen: Pour a pint of boiling water onto 2 ounces of gum arabic, cover it up until the next day, then strain it carefully to get rid of the dregs and keep it in a clean stoppered bottle. A teaspoonful of this stirred into a pint of starch will make shirt fronts look like new. Another (which, however, I have not tried myself) is made by melting together 3 ounces white wax, 3 drams of spermaceti, one-half pound of borax and 14 ounces of gum tragacanth. Add a piece of this the size of a walnut to a quart of ordinary starch.

Treatment of Shoes.

The longer leather shoes and boots are kept, provided the storing place be dark, the longer they will wear. Hence it is real economy for adults to have two or more pairs of shoes on hand at one time. Rub the soles with a mixture of one part resin and six parts tallow, melted together. Apply this quite hot, and heat well in. The resin is a preservative, and the mixture keeps the soles from getting wet through and adds to the durability of the leather.
